BEAUTIFUL TO EXPLORE

Enjoying a tranquil outlook across landscaped grounds towards mature woodland, Hawkins Field is conveniently close to the centre of the historic West Sussex village of Fittleworth.

Timeless village life and a strong sense of community.

Crossing the picturesque 16th century bridge over the River Rother as you approach the wooded outskirts of Fittleworth from the south, you are immediately reminded that this is a location steeped in history. Local landmarks chart the generations that have elapsed since these ancient times - from the 13th century west tower of St Mary's church and the former Swan coaching inn, which dates back to 1536, through the half-timbered cottages and Victorian houses to more recently constructed properties.

As a result of its long history, Fittleworth boasts a delightful blend of architectural styles, united by an unmistakable ambience that could only be West Sussex. The village also enjoys a unique sense of local community, perhaps best encapsulated by the Fittleworth stores, café and post office, which are community owned and run. A village hall and the local primary school sit alongside the picture postcard cricket and sports ground, steady heartbeats of a village life that has changed little over the years and decades.

With a population of just over 700, Fittleworth's residents range from young professionals and growing families to the retired. For 11-18 year olds, there's a choice of state and independent secondary school options at Billingshurst, Petworth and Midhurst, all within a ten mile radius of the village.

Surrounded by a patchwork of livestock and arable farmland, Fittleworth itself sits within the boundaries of the beautiful South Downs, England's newest National Park.

Delightful coastal scenery is also close at hand, after its confluence with the Rother, the nearby River Arun joins the sea at the popular resort of Littlehampton. It's a coastline of enormous charm and surprising variety - from the quiet shingle beaches of Climping and the quaint beach huts of Bognor Regis to the sand dunes of West Wittering and the unspoilt tranquillity of Middleton-on-Sea.

From tranquil, timeless village life to commuter convenience, Fittleworth combines the old world with the new to unique effect.

Lose yourself in the quintessentially English charms of the West Sussex countryside, criss-crossed by streams, pathways and leafy lanes.

HAWKINS FIELD

Classic craftsmanship and contemporary living.

As a development of luxurious new homes, Hawkins Field epitomises the Elivia Homes difference, both in its choice of location and its exceptional standards of craftsmanship. By identifying and acquiring tranquil, natural sites and restoring them to their unspoilt best, we're able to tread lightly – enhancing what's already there and adding our own signature touches to create homes that truly belong in this location.

The fourteen meticulously designed properties at Hawkins Field embody this philosophy. Homes that respect and reflect the local architectural heritage. Spacious, secluded and beautifully landscaped gardens with a parkland outlook and re-wilded pond - a sanctuary for wildlife and birds.

Characterised by vernacular details such as Fittleworth Stone wall, artisan brickwork, and ivory-coloured hardwood windows with matching soffits and fascias, there are echoes of the past at every turn.

As a county, West Sussex boasts some of the nation's most quintessentially English architecture and this is a development that celebrates that history. Fusing Georgian and Victorian stylings with cutting edge internal design and specification, Hawkins Field successfully assimilates traditions of the past into homes of the future.

At a time when bland architectural uniformity is increasingly seen as the safe option, Elivia Homes are proud to be different, bringing authentic character to contemporary living.

Enjoy everything the South Coast has to offer.

As a location, Fittleworth is perfectly placed to enjoy the best that West Sussex has to offer. Pulborough, with its mainline railway station and two national supermarket brands, is just two miles away, with further excellent shopping, dining and leisure facilities at nearby Storrington, Billingshurst and Arundel, all less than eight miles distant. The bustling cathedral city of Chichester is half an hour's drive south of Fittleworth, whilst Horsham lies some 13 miles to the north-east.

The Solent lies 41 miles to the South and is one of Europe's foremost yachting and marine destinations and a world class watersports hotspot.

To the South East, the coastal resorts of Worthing and Brighton are within easy striking distance, at 18 miles and 27 miles respectively. And yet, for a region so closely associated with the south coast, London is also surprisingly close, little more than an hour's journey away from Pulborough station.

London Gatwick Airport, is just 30 miles away from Fittleworth.

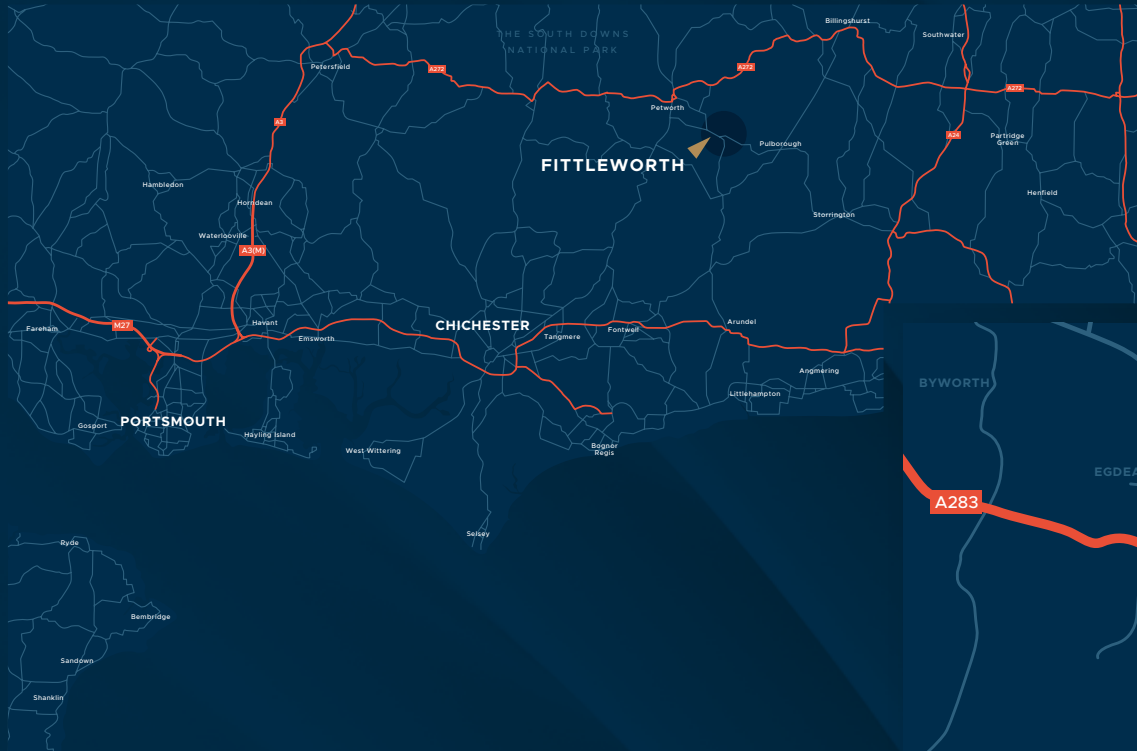

Well located, well-connected and in an area of breathtaking natural beauty, Hawkins Field is enviably situated.

Few places boast such a sense of heritage and history as this charming village. Fewer still combine it with all the amenities and facilities of a modern and vibrant community.
